I’M HAVING A BABY
TIME OFF FOR NEW MOMS

Congratulations! You are welcoming a new child into your family, and there is a lot to think about. Rest assured, both job protection benefits and paid leave benefits are available during your maternity leave. How much you get paid and for how long depends on a number of factors, including whether you have Supplemental Disability Insurance and how much sick leave and vacation time you have accrued and want to use. See below for details and scenarios.

JOB PROTECTION

The Family Medical Leave Act (FMLA), California Family Rights Act (CFRA), and Pregnancy Disability Leave (PDL) offer job protection before and after the birth of your child. If you are eligible, all three leaves guarantee reinstatement to the same or equivalent position when you return to work. The chart below outlines the maximum workweeks you are entitled to under each leave.

* Your health care provider determines the actual amount of time that you are considered to be disabled by the pregnancy, childbirth, or related medical condition.

Per LLNS policy, you are entitled to up to 12 months of leave after the birth of your child for bonding. The leave can be taken without pay or you may use vacation. You will be reinstated into the same or equivalent position when you return.

PAY DURING LEAVE

California State Disability Insurance (CASDI) and Paid Family Leave (PFL) are available for maternity leave if you live in California. You may use your own sick leave and/or vacation accruals to supplement your pay from CASDI and your vacation accruals to supplement your pay from PFL. Additionally, LLNS has an option for you to purchase supplemental disability through The Hartford. Here’s how it works:
CALIFORNIA STATE DISABILITY INSURANCE (CASDI)

- The usual period for CASDI benefits is up to four weeks before your expected due date and six weeks (normal delivery) or eight weeks (Cesarean section) after birth.
  - For information and to apply, visit SDI Online. You will find written instructions and a how-to video.
- CASDI pays either 60% or 70% of your pay during your leave, depending on your income, up to a weekly maximum of $1,252 for 2019.
  - You can use the Disability/PFL Calculator on the CASDI website to estimate your payment.
- You can elect to supplement CASDI with your sick leave and/or vacation accruals.
  - You may supplement CASDI with sick leave to receive up to 80% of your salary, and you may choose to receive 20% vacation to get to 100%.
  - You can also elect to supplement CASDI up to 100% with vacation.
- There is a seven-day waiting period before disability benefits begin.
  - During this time, you can elect to use your own sick leave and/or vacation pay or choose not to be paid.

PAID FAMILY LEAVE (PFL)

- After CASDI benefits end, you are eligible for PFL benefits to bond with your new baby.
- PFL pays either 60% or 70% of your pay, depending on your income, up to a weekly maximum of $1,252 for 2019.
- You can elect to supplement PFL with your vacation accruals.
  - You may supplement PFL with vacation to receive up to 80% or 100% of your salary.
- You can use the Disability/PFL Calculator on the CASDI website to estimate your payment.

SUPPLEMENTAL DISABILITY

Supplemental Disability Insurance, offered through The Hartford, supplements the disability coverage available to you through CASDI, provides coverage to employees outside of California and could pay a higher level of benefits during your maternity leave — 70% of your pay, up to a maximum of $15,000 per month, coordinated with CASDI payments, if applicable. You may enroll in supplemental disability or change your waiting period at any time. However, if you do not enroll within 31 days after first becoming eligible or want to increase your benefits, you will need to submit Evidence of Insurability to The Hartford.

see the LLNS Supplemental Disability Plan for details.
MATERNITY TIME-OFF EXAMPLES

Here are a few scenarios to help illustrate how your paid-leave and job-protection benefits work together.

EMILY: A HEALTHY PREGNANCY & NORMAL DELIVERY

Emily goes into labor prior to the start of her leave and files a claim for disability benefits when her child is born. Because she has a normal delivery (not a C-section), she receives five weeks of paid leave from CASDI after a seven-day waiting period and supplements CASDI with her employee sick leave accruals. After six weeks, she is no longer disabled, so her disability benefits end. Emily then takes six weeks of Paid Family Leave and two weeks of unpaid leave to bond with her baby.

During the first twelve weeks, FMLA protects Emily’s job. PDL runs concurrently with FMLA and continues while she is disabled, up to four months. Once her disability benefits and FMLA end, CFRA offers job protection for the remaining leave.

QUESTIONS?

Every situation is different, and at LLNS, we understand that these leave benefits can be complicated. For questions, call the Benefits Office at 1-925-422-9955.
SARAH: A HEALTHY PREGNANCY & C-SECTION DELIVERY

Sarah files a claim for disability benefits, begins her leave four weeks prior to her due date, and delivers her baby during the sixth week. She has a C-section delivery and receives 12 weeks of payments from CASDI after a seven-day waiting period. After eight weeks, her disability benefits end. Sarah then takes six weeks of Paid Family Leave to bond with her baby and uses her vacation accruals to supplement payment from Paid Family Leave.

During the first twelve weeks, FMLA protects Sarah’s job. PDL runs concurrently with FMLA for 12 weeks and continues while she is disabled. Then, CFRA protects her job for the remaining leave.

JESSICA: A DIFFICULT PREGNANCY & C-SECTION DELIVERY

Jessica’s doctor orders her to go on bed rest for eight weeks before her due date. Her job is protected by FMLA and PDL until Jessica has the baby. Jessica uses accrued sick and vacation time for the first week, the waiting period. (If she had no accrued time, she would take unpaid leave.) After the waiting period, Jessica starts receiving CASDI benefits. After her baby is born via C-section, Jessica continues to receive disability benefits for eight weeks. FMLA continues to protect her job for four more weeks (a total of 12 weeks), and PDL continues to protect her job until she is no longer disabled. She then takes six weeks of Paid Family Leave to bond with her baby while CFRA protects her job.

I’M WELCOMING A NEW CHILD INTO MY FAMILY

TIME OFF FOR SPOUSES/PARTNERS, ADOPTIVE PARENTS, AND FOSTER PARENTS

Congratulations! You are welcoming a new child into your family. When your family grows, you may want to take some time off to bond with a new baby or child, including adopted and foster children.

JOB PROTECTION

The Family Medical Leave Act (FMLA) and the California Family Rights Act (CFRA) offer job protection for new parents to take time off to bond with a new child. If you are eligible, you are guaranteed reinstatement to the same or equivalent position when you return to work. CFRA generally mirrors the federal FMLA and runs concurrently if you are eligible for both. The chart below outlines the maximum workweeks you are entitled to under each leave, within 12 months of the child's birth, adoption, or start of foster care.

PARENTAL LEAVE TIME-OFF EXAMPLES

MIKE: WELCOMING A NEW BABY

Mike’s wife, Amy, is having a baby. He uses eight hours of accrued employee sick leave to attend the birth and then two weeks of his accrued sick leave after birth. He then takes two additional weeks of Paid Family Leave. While Amy is still disabled, Mike uses family sick leave accruals to supplement PFL for the next two weeks. Mike then comes back to work for two months. He uses the remaining four weeks intermittently over the next five months and uses his vacation accruals to supplement PFL payments, because she is no longer disabled. During the entirety of his leave, FMLA and CFRA protect Mike’s job.

JOHN: ADOPTING A CHILD

John and his partner are adopting a baby. He takes 80 hours of employee sick leave for the first two weeks, starting on the day the child is placed with his family. Then he applies for Paid Family Leave and supplements with vacation accruals for one week. He then comes back to work for two weeks. John decides to take another week off without supplementing, and then comes back to work for six months. He completes his PFL by taking off the remaining four weeks and supplements PFL with vacation. During the entirety of his leave, FMLA and CFRA protect John’s job.

I NEED TIME OFF TO GET WELL

TIME OFF TO RECOVER FROM A SURGERY, SERIOUS INJURY OR ILLNESS

Sometimes life takes a turn we’re not expecting, which might include sudden illness or injury. If you become ill or disabled and are unable to work, you can take time off of work so you can focus on recovering.

JOB PROTECTION

The Family Medical Leave Act (FMLA) and the California Family Rights Act (CFRA) offer job protection if you are unable to work due to a serious health condition. PAY DURING LEAVE

California State Disability Insurance (CASDI) is available to you if you live in California. You may use your own sick leave and vacation accruals to supplement your pay from CASDI. Additionally, LLNS has an option for you to purchase supplemental disability through The Hartford. If you were injured at work, you may be covered by Workers’ Compensation instead of CASDI. Here’s how it works:

CALIFORNIA STATE DISABILITY INSURANCE (CASDI)

- You can receive CASDI benefits for up to 52 weeks for serious illness or injury.
- CASDI pays either 60% or 70% of your pay during your leave, depending on your income, up to a weekly maximum of $1,252 for 2019.
- You can use the Disability/PFL Calculator on the CASDI website to estimate your payment. You can elect to supplement CASDI with your sick leave and/or vacation accruals.
  - You may supplement CASDI with sick leave to receive up to 80% of your salary, and you may choose to receive 20% vacation to get to 100%.
  - You can also elect to supplement CASDI up to 100% with vacation.
- There is a seven-day waiting period before disability benefits begin. During this time, you can elect to use your own sick leave and/or vacation pay or choose not to be paid.

* If you live outside of California, your benefits will differ.

SUPPLEMENTAL DISABILITY

Supplemental Disability Insurance, offered through The Hartford, supplements the disability coverage available to you through CASDI and provides coverage to employees outside of California. It pays a higher level of benefits for a longer period of time while you are disabled. You may enroll in supplemental disability or change your waiting period at any time. However, if you do not enroll within 31 days after first becoming eligible or want to increase your benefits, you will need to submit Evidence of Insurability to The Hartford.

See the LLNS Supplemental Disability Plan for details.

WORKERS’ COMPENSATION

- If you become ill or suffer an injury related to the workplace, you may be covered under Workers’ Compensation. Workers’ Compensation covers the cost of medical treatment and provides compensation for lost work time.
- The benefit amounts are based on your weekly wages and are determined by California law. Currently, Workers’ Compensation provides two-thirds of your salary, up to a maximum of $1,242.78 per week for 2019.
- You can supplement using sick leave and/or vacation accruals.
- You can also use Supplemental Disability Insurance, offered through The Hartford, to supplement your pay through Workers’ Compensation or provide coverage if your primary work location is outside of California.
- Contact Health Services and your supervisor as soon as your injury or illness occurs. For additional information, see Workers’ Compensation Leave Roles and Responsibilities.

 Workers’ Compensation benefits may differ for employees with primary work locations outside of California.
DISABILITY LEAVE TIME-OFF EXAMPLE

JOSH: RECOVERING FROM SURGERY

Josh is in a car accident and misses four months of work while he recovers from surgery. Josh uses his sick leave accruals to cover his pay for the first week. Beginning the second week of his leave, Josh receives a percentage of his pay through CASDI. Josh supplements his CASDI benefits with Supplemental Disability to receive a greater percentage of his pay for the full 16 weeks he is on leave.

For the first 12 weeks, FMLA and CFRA protect Josh’s job. After his 12th week of leave, Josh’s job is not protected by FMLA or CFRA, but additional time off will likely be a reasonable accommodation under the Americans with Disabilities Act and the California Fair Employment and Housing Act.

The Family Medical Leave Act (FMLA) and the California Family Rights Act (CFRA) offer job protection if you need time off work to care for a family member. If you are eligible, you are guaranteed reinstatement to the same or equivalent position when you return to work. CFRA generally mirrors the federal FMLA and runs concurrently if you are eligible for both. The chart below outlines the maximum workweeks you are entitled to under each leave in a calendar year.

- PFL pays either 60% or 70% of your pay, depending on your income, up to a weekly maximum of $1,252 for 2019. You may be eligible for up to six weeks.
- You can elect to supplement Paid Family Leave with your family sick leave and/or vacation accruals.
  - You may supplement Paid Family Leave with sick leave to receive up to 80% of your salary, and you may choose to receive 20% vacation to get to 100%.
  - You can also elect to supplement PFL up to 100% with vacation.

USING VACATION AND SICK ACCRUALS TO SUPPLEMENT PFL

FAMILY CARE LEAVE TIME-OFF EXAMPLE

JOHN: Caring for Aging Parents

John’s mother becomes seriously ill and needs constant care. He takes six weeks off to care for her. While he is away, he receives Paid Family Leave, which replaces a percentage of his pay. Throughout the year, he takes two additional two-week periods off to care for her. He uses his family sick leave and vacation accruals after PFL runs out. FMLA and CFRA protect John’s job for the full ten weeks.

If you are a vested LLNS Defined Benefit Pension Plan member, you may be eligible for disability income. For more information, see the LLNS Defined Benefit Eligible Disability Program Summary.

LLNS CATASTROPHIC LEAVE PROGRAM

HOW LEAVE AFFECTS YOUR SERVICE CREDIT

If you take an unpaid leave or if your supplemental hours are less than 50% of your regular hours, you may have an adjusted service date. If so, you will receive an email message when you return.

VACATION LEAVE AND SERVICE AWARDS

Qualifying service to determine the rate of vacation accrual is based on the following:

- A month of service at one-half time or more is a month of qualifying service.
- If you are supplementing a leave of absence and are paid less than 50% of your normal work hours or take an unpaid leave, your service date for vacation and service awards will be adjusted.

For more information, see the Time Away from Work Policies.

LLNS 401(K) RETIREMENT PLAN

You will continue to earn credited service if you return from an approved disability leave, USERRA (Military) Leave, or a Government Service Leave within 90 days after the end of your leave.

For more information, see the Summary Plan Description.

LLNS DEFINED BENEFIT PENSION PLAN (TCP1)

You will be credited with one year of service for each plan year in which you earn 2,080 or more hours of service while an active member in the Plan. You will earn a fraction of a year of credited service in any year in which you work fewer than 2,080 hours.

You stop accruing service credit when you are no longer in pay status. You remain eligible for any benefits for which you were eligible before your leave began.

Upon return to active status following a USERRA (Military) Leave, Governmental Service Leave, or Workers’ Compensation Leave, you have the option to make up the mandatory member contributions. The amount of missed mandatory member contributions is based on the eligible plan compensation for such period.

In order to receive hours of credited service, the missed mandatory member contributions must be completed within a maximum period of three (3) times the length of the leave, not to exceed five (5) years. Contributions are made by payroll deduction and may be made only while you are an employee of Lawrence Livermore National Security. If you fail to make the full amount of the missed mandatory member contributions (plus interest in the case of a Governmental Service leave or Workers’ Compensation leave) by the deadline, the hours of Credited Service will be prorated based on any partial repayment of such missed mandatory member contributions.

For more information, see the Summary Plan Description.
